Paradise Construction
Contractor

Paradise Construction was contracted by the building owner to repair and restore the exterior of this freestanding Rite Aid pharmacy in the Washington Heights section of Manhattan, across the street from the George Washington Bridge Bus Terminal. Construction services included structural repairs and replacement/restoration of brick, concrete, wood structures and roof.

Rite Aid, the nation's largest drug store chain, has nearly 200 stores in New York City

The $460,000 project was completed within budget and on schedule in 2006.
